Objectives of SSENAM'7

After the very good successful event in the fifth conference SSENAM'6 in Chlef University. The objective of the seventh Students Symposium on Engineering Application of Mechanics, "SSENAM7" will be focus on the "Environment and Socio-Economic impact" and destined directly on the PhD student evolution.

The SSENAM'7 will be held in the Campus of Khenchela University, on the 29-30 Avril, 2024 with the collaboration of the several local Universities and organized with different laboratories.

The aims of the seventh Symposium will be to discuss the present status of the applied mechanics based constitutive simulation, rheology and modeling of materials and associated experimental observations methods. It's also an opportunity for scientists and engineers from Algerians Master, Ph.d Students from universities and industry to discuss research activities that could be a basis for future collaborations.

Nature & Technology, Frattura ed Integrità Strutturale (IGF), Structural integrity and life and another's Journals, will be the supporting journal of the Symposium where all reviewed and accepted conference papers will be published in special issue.
